

Celina B. Realuyo
Assistant Professor of Counterterrorism
National Defense University, School for National Security Executive Education

Celina Realuyo educates top U.S. and foreign military and civilian leaders on national security and counterterrorism strategies at the National Defense University, teaching the “Global War on Terrorism” and “Terrorism and Crime” courses. She is a critically acclaimed public speaker before official government, private sector, and academic audiences on such subjects as “Managing Geopolitical Risks in the 21st Century,” “Safeguarding International Financial Systems from Terrorist Financing and Money Laundering,” and “Securing Supply Chains from Terrorism and Crime.” From 2002-2006, Ms. Realuyo served as the Director of Counterterrorism Finance Programs at the State Department’s Office of the Coordinator for Counterterrorism in Washington, D.C. where she applied her international banking skills to the financial front of the war on terror post-9/11. Under her stewardship, the U.S. delivered technical assistance to 20 countries, training over 1800 foreign counterparts, and her team received an “A-” from the 9/11 Commission in 2005 for their efforts to combat terrorist financing.

Prior to returning to Washington, Ms. Realuyo was a private banker with Goldman Sachs in London. She began her career as a U.S. Foreign Service Officer with overseas assignments in Madrid, Panama, and the U.S. Mission to NATO, Brussels and in Washington, at the State Department Operations Center, National Security Council’s White House Situation Room, and as Special Assistant to the Secretary of State. She is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, International Institute for Strategic Studies, Women in International Security, and the Professional Risk Managers International Association. Ms. Realuyo holds an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School, M.A. in International Relations from Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS), and B.S. in Foreign Service from Georgetown University. She has traveled to over 50 countries, speaks French and Spanish fluently, and is conversant in Italian, German, Filipino, and Arabic.

Contact: CRealuyo@aol.com