

Robert Burns, FRM, CFA
FDIC

Robert Burns is a Section Chief in the FDIC's Complex Financial Institutions Branch, which focuses on offsite surveillance and the FDIC's onsite activities at the nation's largest banking organizations. He has 18 years of experience in bank supervision having served as an examiner, financial analyst, and senior examiner for large financial institutions. He holds professional designations as a Financial Risk Manager and as a Chartered Financial Analyst.