

Cristeena G. Naser, CCTS

Cris Naser is Senior Counsel in the Center for Securities, Trust and Investment group of ABA's Government Relations Division, and also Associate General Counsel of the ABA Securities Association. She is responsible for ABA's regulatory efforts on asset-backed securities, corporate trust, municipal securities, transfer agent, medallion signature guarantee, and other securities issues. In 2006, Cris successfully completed the requirements to be a Certified Corporate Trust Specialist.

In addition to these responsibilities, Cris is the primary author of ABA's monthly compliance newsletter, the Regulatory and Legislative Advisory. As such, she follows closely the myriad of regulatory, legislative and judicial developments of interest to compliance officers.

Prior to joining the ABA, Cris was Senior Attorney at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. She was also in private practice in Washington D.C. as a bank regulatory attorney. Cris holds an undergraduate degree from George Washington University and earned her JD at the George Washington University National Law Center. Cris is a member of the District of Columbia and Maryland Bar Associations.
